

Add Calendar to iPhone or iPad

1. Open the Settings application on your device.
2. Select Mail, Contacts, Calendars.
3. Select Add Account...
4. Select Other
5. Under "Calendars", Select Add CalDAV Account
6. Fill out your account information in the following fields:
  - a. Server: Enter https://75.151.107.61/zulu/calendars/MD2_EMR/
  - b. User Name: Enter your full FileMaker Account name.
  - c. Password: Your FileMaker Account password.
  - d. Description: Enter a description of the account (e.g. MD2 Calendar)
  - e. Hit "Next" to allow it to verify your credentials
  - f. Leave both "Calendars" and "Reminders" highlighted, and hit "Save"
7. After completing setup, return to the Calendar app on your device and you will see the calendar syncing automatically begin. It may take some time (2-5 minutes) for the calendar to sync the first time.

Add Contacts to iPhone or iPad

1. Open the Settings application on your device.
2. Select Mail, Contacts, Calendars.
3. Select Add Account...
4. Select Other
5. Under "Contacts", Select Add CardDAV Account
6. Fill out your account information in the following fields:
  - a. Server: Enter google.com
  - b. User Name: Enter 'bellevuemd2@gmail.com' as the email address.
  - c. Password: The Bellevue MD2 gmail password.
  - d. Description: Enter a description of the account (e.g. Patient Contacts).
7. Select Next at the top of your screen.
8. Credentials should verify.
9. After you've completed setup, open the Contacts app on your device, and syncing will automatically begin.

Note: If you have another Google account (say, a personal one) set up with contacts on your iPad or iPhone, you may need to switch between your personal account and your MD2 account. To do so from within the Contacts, select "Groups" at the top left. A sidebar should appear that will allow you to toggle between your personal contacts and the MD2 contacts, or to show both together. Once you have selected a group to show, hit Done and you will go back to the Contacts screen, where just the group of contacts you have selected should be shown.
